Map of Treaty of Paris

Directions: The Treaty of Paris (1783) created the boundaries of the United States. Color in the boundaries of the United States according to the description given under "Treaty of Paris." Fill in the appropriate color keys. Cut out the map and paste into notebook.

Treaty of Paris

The United States kept all land it owned before the war which was the original thirteen colonies. In addition, it gained the land east of the Mississippi River to the western borders of the states and all land from the Great Lakes south to the northern border of Florida. Britain kept Canada while Spain owned all the land west of the Mississippi River and all of the Florida territory.
